COMPILATION OF PRICES AND COMPARISON OF LISTS

COMPILATION OF PRICES- FRAMEWORK FOR THE COLLECTION OF PRICES

Keeping in mind that one of the objectives of the ICP it is to measure the level of prices of all economic coverage in the country.

It is of utmost importance to have a national average such that it represents the price level for the economic territory of the country for which the parities of purchasing power (PPP) shall be calculated.

On the other hand, the coverage of establishments where prices are collected should be representative of the types of establishments where products from the list of goods and services are acquired.

PRICES TO BE OBSERVED IN THE PRICE SURVEY

The differentiation of the different types of prices observed in the establishments of the internal market must be in the process of collecting prices. In the 2011 round, there were three types of prices:

1. Regular or Normal Price
2. Reduced Price
3. Negotiated or Bargaining Price

Due to the different types of transactions that exist in the countries of the region. It is proposed to use in this round 2017, the first two types of prices.

PRICES TO BE OBSERVED IN THE PRICE SURVEY

The distinction between the prices must be made and clearly observed in the collection of prices.

Thus when in a particular product, it was noted as the Normal price, and in another time-period this same product is observed with reduced price, the kind of price should be indicated in the form of collection and entered in the basis of information, in addition to the monetary value.

Since the difference in type of prices generated an observable difference in price levels.
