During the thirty-four session ECLAC presented in San Salvador the document Structural Change for Equality, which holds that macroeconomic, industrial and social policies should be articulated to achieve growth with equity and environmental sustainability.

During the thirty-three session ECLAC presented in Brasilia the document Time for Equality, which defines how countries can put equality at the heart of its policies for the welfare of people.