

A woman with long dark hair is seen from the back, leaning over a ledge and looking out over a city at sunset. The sky is a mix of purple, pink, and orange. The city lights are visible in the distance, and the overall scene is framed by a large white circle.

FP Wakanda Shakes the World

What does it mean for an African nation to lead the global future?

Great review of @theblackpanther by my friend @gateteviews "It is funny how the real African continent and African people are closer to Wakanda a fictitious city, than it is to the miserable, hellish continent depicted by western media and religions."

Black Panther: Africans can project no limits to the...

My friend who'd bought a ticket to go see Black Panther was told by her sneaky 12 year old that the film was about a comic superhero. She gave him the ticket inst...

What we'll cover in this presentation

1. Strategic Foresight is a skillset increasingly embraced by leaders working within our complex and uncertain world

2. Lots of innovation happening around the SDGs and agenda 2030 to prepare for and shape the future of sectors, countries, cities

3. BUT lots more to do.... strategic foresight activities need to move from adhoc and tactical efforts to being systemic part of community & government decision making

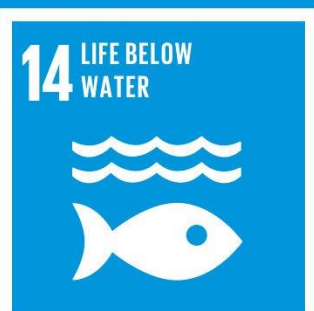

Three benefits of Strategic foresight

1. Vision: Make strategic choices to shape the future you want

2. Manage risk: Build preparedness for alternative possible futures

3. Organisational Agility: Create future-ready and alert organisations that can adapt as the future evolves

A CRITICAL skillset for decision-making and emergent planning under conditions of complexity

- Global & local => a long-term international framework delivered locally
- Interdependent and indivisible => whole of government & systems approach
- Transformation => requires new innovation & resources, the ability to co-create & harness the potential of technology through participation

GLOBAL VISION | URBAN ACTION: OneNYC and the Sustainable Development Goals
The following pages are designed to illustrate how OneNYC aligns with the global Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). They include specific OneNYC visions, goals, initiatives and targets that the Mayor's Office for International Affairs has identified as connectors to the SDGs, but the lists are not exhaustive.

UN is exploring how a foresight mindset supports development interventions, policies & programmes

Futures

Global

- Identifying the key, emergent frontier issues
- Using scanning and scenarios to support integrated action across the Development-Humanitarian-Peacebuilding nexus

Regional

- Develop 'futures awareness'
- Horizon scanning programmes
- Convening national foresight & strategy unit

Country

- Identify local perspectives & needs
- Integrated analysis, planning & foresight processes by Resident Coordinators
- Supporting governments

Growing appetite from key leaders

“Strategic foresight means better policies – it is about questioning what we expect, and testing whether our hopes are realistic. It is about reaching beyond forecasting into exploring the unexpected”.

Angel Gurría, OECD Secretary-General, 2018

“Foresight... is an effective tool to formulate a more robust and strategic national development framework for the country”

Sri Lanka Minister of Planning, 2015

“[We] need enhanced capabilities in foresight methodologies and approaches that take volatility and complexity as their starting point to generate insights that enable transformative actions towards inclusive and sustainable development”

UN Secretary General’s 2030 report, 2018

Final Thoughts

What is still outstanding:

1. How to INSTITUTIONALISE
2. ALLIANCES
3. Key to DEMOCRATIC RENEWAL
4. Beyond Cassandra: foresight for PREVENTION

How can we apply and demonstrate IMPACT in Voluntary National Reviews (VNRs) at 2019 HLPF?
