

This project is co-funded by
the European Union

Federal Ministry
for Economic Cooperation
and Development

giz Deutsche Gesellschaft
für Internationale
Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH

Results & Developments in 2017 Planned activities for 2018

LAC

Reinaldo Peñailillo

giz Deutsche Gesellschaft
für Internationale
Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH

NRD 2nd Steering Committee Meeting
March 1, 2018

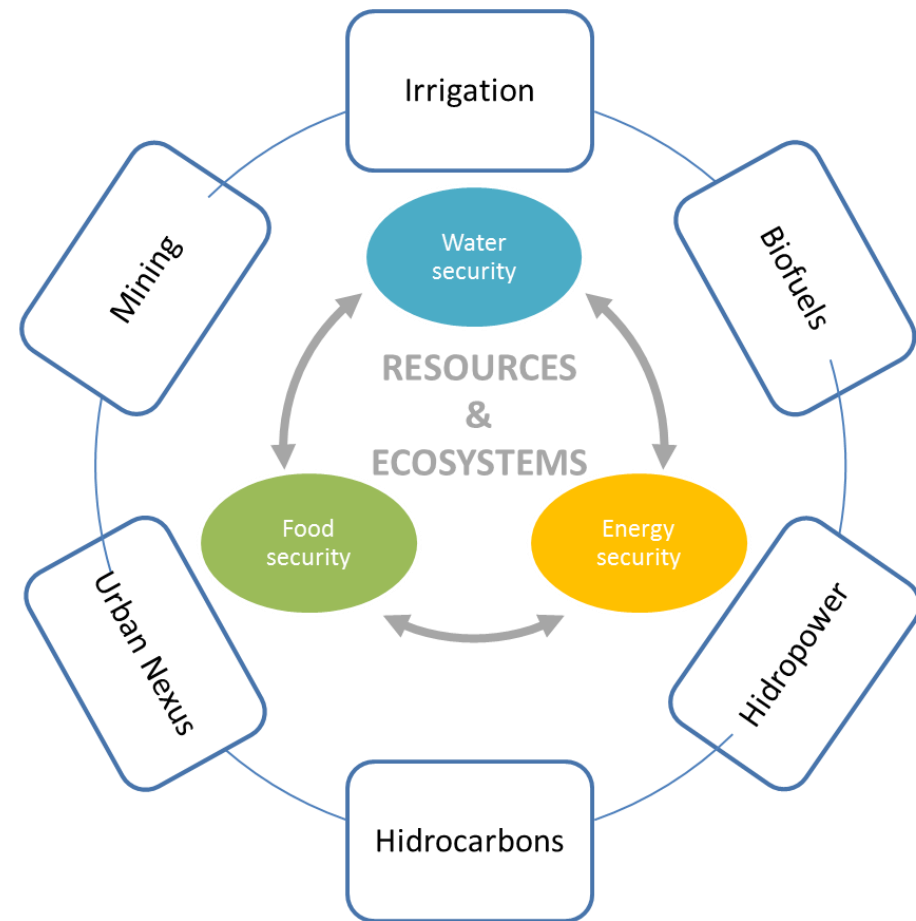

NACIONES UNIDAS

CEPAL

Nexus context and entry points in LAC

- What are the specific characteristics of the Nexus in LAC and difficulties for its implementation?
- What is the relationship between the Nexus and:
 - Human rights;
 - Water allocation priorities?
- What are the main intervention areas?

Publication: “The WEF Nexus in LAC: Planning, legal framework and identification of priority interconnections”:

Costa Rica: Hydropower, Water, Irrigation

National nexus evaluation: Reventazon river basin

- Characterization of the nexus-related sectors (resources, legal framework, regulatory capacity, conflicts, challenges, etc.).
- Identification of priority nexus interrelations.
- Policy proposals.

National Workshop (37 participants, 32% female)

- Dialogue with governmental agencies to discuss and validate interrelations and recommended policies
- GNS: Germand/EU experience
- IDB presented Nexus activities in LAC.

Peru: Young Water Institution, Police Coordination

National nexus evaluation

- Coordination of water policies with development and sectoral policies, and their intergovernmental integration.
- Subnational level: Santa Eulalia river basin.
- Started in July 2017.

Local workshop (35 participants, 40% female)

- Dialogue with national agencies, peasant communities and the municipality.
- Identification of relevant local concerns regarding Nexus interrelations.

Regional policy guidelines

- References: Bonn 2011 messages and Policy briefs of the MENA region
- Second draft (circulated for comments)
- To be presented and discussed at the Regional Forum (14-15 May 2018), with a view to incorporate suggestions and comments of participants (water, energy and agricultural sector).

Legal
frameworks

Institutions /
coordination

River basin
agencies

Information

Economic and tax
instruments

Planning

Sectoral policies

Supporting trainings on social evaluation of public investment (Chile)

- Collaboration with the Social Development Ministry of Chile.
 - Methodologies for the social evaluation of public investments.
- Presentation of the Nexus approach and criteria to support the formulation and evaluation of investment projects.
 - Desalination
 - Renewable Energy

Dissemination & Networking

- Dissemination through 5 main events, including:
 - High-Level Panel, World Water Congress 2017, México. Preparation of a White Paper. Results of the HLP to be presented at the WWF2018.
 - Congress for the Regional Analysis of Water, Central American Integration System (SICA), Costa Rica.
 - Presentation of Nexus regional policy guidelines, which were included in the proposal of regional guidelines for IWRM.

- Networking

Planned activities for 2018

- Nexus Week: May 14-17, ECLAC, Santiago: Regional Forum (2 days) and HCB training (2 days).
- Finalizing and publishing the regional Nexus policy guidelines (June).
- Organization of national workshop in Peru (April).
- Finalizing case study in Peru “Alignment of water policies with national and development policies under the Nexus perspective” (May).
- Pilot project in Chile on the expansion of solar pumping, minimizing the risks of overexploitation of aquifers (March-June). Reference on ToR of Study in Tunisia. Comparative results analysis of both regions
- Possible pilot project in Mexico on the Nexus in the water supply and sanitation sector.
- Preparation of the Regional Action Plan.

This project is co-funded by
the European Union

Federal Ministry
for Economic Cooperation
and Development

giz Deutsche Gesellschaft
für Internationale
Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH

THANKS! GRACIAS! OBRIGADO!

giz Deutsche Gesellschaft
für Internationale
Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH

NRD 2nd Steering Committee Meeting
March 1, 2018

NACIONES UNIDAS

CEPAL