Yammer101 (#1) – “All Network” vs. “Discovery”:
You have probably spent most of your time in the “All Network” group, which is a great place to watch because this is where everybody is posting right now. But in “All Network” older posts get always pushed to the top when new comments are added. This can be distracting, and you might lose track of other great new posts.
Instead try the “Discovery” feed! Just click on the home (house) icon in the left column. The Discovery feed will learn what YOU are interested in. You can “train” the Discovery feed by “following” people that have posted interesting things or by “following” topics. To follow a topic, click on the topic (hashtag) and click “follow” in the upper-right corner.
